

Operation EDEN on the Big Screen Liverpool Biennial 2006

Community groups working with Operation EDEN have become stars on the Liverpool big screen as part of the Liverpool Biennial.

Operation EDEN's first film, Gardeners of Eden was entered into Beneath the Skin of the City, a competition for films made in Liverpool.

Gardeners of Eden featured three food-growing projects that we have supported:

- Big Issue in the North Trust, working with Methodist Church in the City
- St Christopher's Church, Norris Green with their Norris Green Fingers
- Al-Ghazali Multicultural Centre

All three projects highlighted how the food growing had not only enabled people to live healthier lives but also how these projects brought people together.

The winning films will be announced on 21 November.

Operation EDEN now has three short films available FREE:

- Gardeners of Eden Community food-growing projects
- Talking Rubbish Community recycling
- Shooting the Breeze Wind turbine workshop
